NASHVILLE, Sept. 16, 1872.—Having sees your letter of inquiry addressed hrough the Union and American of Saturday morning to us, while we dislike to appear in the newspapers in any shape, we feel that it is due you that we should state, for you and for the benefit of all whom it may convern the feet in the whom it may concern, the facts in the case. In answering the inquiries we think it better to reproduce the letter, and answer the last inquiries first, which letter is in the words and figures following:

NASHVILLE, Sept. 12, 1872.—Hons. Jas. Whitworth, J. B. Knowles and W. A. Glenn—Gentlemen: The Hon. Andrew Johnson, in his recent epeeches delivered in this city and Edgefield, in substance said that he had levied contributions upon the citizens of Nashville and vicinity during the late war for the benefit of the wives and children of poor Confederate soldiers "who were clamoring for bread."

The undersigned are informed that you know the history of this matter and can give the facts as to what amount of money was collected and disbursed from these asessements levied, and to whom it was paid. Will you, therefore, state for the ben the public what amount of money was so raised and disbursed, at what time and to whom paid—whether to the wives of Confederate soldiers or to whom. Also, state if you or other parties were directed by President Johnson to pay said fund so raised to any particular class of persons; if so, to whom? Will you do us the further

There was an act of the Legislature 1861, authorizing the County Courts of the various courties to lavy, a tax for the benefit of the wives and depend-ents of Confederate soldiers, and County Court of Davidson county did levy a tax in 1861 and 1862, from which and other sources of the county there was raised and distributed to the dependents of Confederate soldiers about $30,000 within the time mentioned above, as will be seen by reference to the County

All the above sum of money was distri-buted by James Whitworth, County Judge, and the Magistrates of each district in the county, the Magistrates of each district and County Judge having been by resolution of the Justices' Court appointed a Committee for that purpose.

When Gov. Johnson came to Nashville,

as Military Governor, in 1862, I called to see commendations. To those who have not him and explained to him what had been done by the Legislature and County Court and asked him if he intended to prevent any further distributions under the law, to which inquiry he responded he would not interfere, and the distributions were continued until the money was exhausted. The above statement is made by James Whitworth alone and applies alone to the money raised under the law referred to. On or about the 23d day of August, 1862, Gov. Johnson issued an order to Joseph B. Knowles, M. M. Monnahan and James Whitworth, (Monnahan is now dead,) constituting them a relief committee to distribute such funds as might come into their hands, through his orders, for the benefit of the poor then concentrated or residing in the city or county. From the 23d day of August, 1862, to the 9th day of January, 1864, there came to the hands of said com mittee, under his orders, the sum of twen-ty-two thousand three hundred and seventy-two dollars and ninety-five cents ($22,-372.95.) all of which was distributed to the poor, without regard to whether they were

Confederate soldiers' wives and children or We do not know what, if any, orders or instructions were given to other parties about this or any other matter, but there was no order directing us to distribute the funds placed in our hands to any particular class of the destitute, but we were left, so far as classes of the poor were concerned, to our own discretion and judgment, and in the exercise of this judgment and discre-tion we did aid and assist with the money put in our hands under said orders the wives and dependents of Confederate and Federal soldiers, refugees and home or resident poor, making no distinction, but were governed in our distribution alone by the necessities of each applicant. The above sum is all the money we know anything about in connection with the poor, a complete account of which, with the names of those to whom it was given, can be seen by calling on James Whit-worth, in whose hands the account is, as it was reported to the Governor from time to Yours respectfully, JAMES WHITWORTH,

J. B. KNOWLES. I kept the books for the committee and the statement given above of the receipts and disbursements by the committee is correct, as appears from my report made to Gov. Johnson, ending Feb., 1884. W. A. GLENN.

A DEFENSE OF SMITH COUNTY. To the Editor of the Union and American

GRANT, Smith County, Tenn., Sept. 14, 1872 .- I write to call the attention of your readers to the misrepresentations of some Loil, who has written to the Cincinnat Times, of the 17th of August last. I quote an extract from his letter: "Positics is pretty dull just now. We seem to have a few sore beads of the Seymour persuasion, who can sometimes half raise a crack for H. G.; but lost-cause men appear to be in the middle of a fix, and if the Louisville Convention offers them a condidate who smells strong of garlic, you could not get one of them to touch the old white hat with a forty foot pole. Their prospects at this time are not increasing. The best talent of this county is, and has all the time been arrayed against Republican principle, and now, in the absence of a better feast they serve up H. G.

This whole extract is a wilful misrepre sentation of the people of Smith county. No well informed man doubts but that Horace Greeley will get fully three-fourths of the voters of this county. But few have ever been Radical Republicans of the stamp of Thad. Stevens, Gen. Grant, stitution and opposed to Republican Democratic government. They are opposed to liberty, justice and equality, and are still struggling to keep up Grant's military despotism. They are still for the military negro-leagues, for confiscation, robbery and despotism. They are still for war and plunger. Hence they want Grant re-elected. They can have no other reason for his re-election. If they want peace, jus-tice and republican liberty, they would not want Grant for President, nor Brownlow to lead them in his torch and turpentine brigade, and "wade in rebel blood up to his chin." New York Money Market. NEW YORK, Sept. 17 .- Money has been very active all day in consequence of a corner in Erie and gold which required a very large amount, and was aggravated by the bears, who used all they could furnish security for. The price, which was easy early in the day at 6a7, advanced rapidly to 7 per cent gold, and commissions ranging from 2 to 2 per cent per day, closing at 1 2 per cent. Sterling nominal; no long bins on the market; cash 10%. Gold active and fluctuating; opened at 113$, sold up to 114$, fell to 113$, and closed at 114$a114$. A squeeze was caused by calling in loans, and as high as 12 per cent was paid for use of cash coin, though some renewals were made at †a†. The corner caught many parties on the short side, including a number of merchants. It is reported, however, that a good part of short interest has been privately closed out to day. If this is correct the corner will be of short duration. Clearings 106 millions. Treasury disbursements $33,000. Governments fluctuated but little and closed easier. State bonds duli and steady. In stocks the bear clique who assisted in squeezing money, sold prices down 1a21 per cent. The corner in Eric was NEW YORK, Sept. 17, 1:45.—Market quiet. Futures quiet.
